Learning communities cultivate “shared knowledge, shared knowing, and shared responsibility”

- VINCENT TINTO

“Where globalization means, as it so often does, that the rich and powerful now have the means to further enrich and empower themselves at the cost of the poorer and weaker, we have a responsibility to protest in the name of universal freedom.”

- NELSON MANDELA

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

“Learning communities cultivate “shared knowledge, shared knowing, and shared responsibility”

- VINCENT TINTO
John Delloro Program in Social Justice is

- Two-year learning community designed for students who plan to transfer to a 4-year university.
- Students enter the program with a group of socially-conscious individuals and complete a pre-planned program together.
- Three Rotating Cohort Tracks Dedicated to Social Justice: Labor and Working People, Environmental Policy, and Public Art.
- Students receive personal attention from all program faculty.
- Successful completion of the program ensures an AA degree in 2 years and transfer readiness.

The John Delloro Program is designed to provide you with a strong foundation of skills to succeed both in academics and in your communities. The program offers a unique combination of coursework, close student-faculty interactions, and weekly symposiums.

Program Eligibility and Highlights

- To qualify for the program students must assess into English 101 or Math 125.
- A summer bridge allows students to complete the Math or English requirements to begin the academic year at college standing.
- Summer abroad or American field studies.
- Internships and service learning
- Peer-mentoring
- University partnerships
- Community organizing

“We cannot seek achievement for ourselves and forget about progress and prosperity for our community... Our ambitions must be broad enough to include the aspirations and needs of others, for their sakes and for our own.”

-Cesar Chavez