Program Description

The East Los Angeles College English Department is dedicated to assisting students in becoming critical thinkers through the study of writing and literature, and supporting them in becoming more informed through English, Reading, and ESL courses. Our English courses, whether face-to-face or online, provide a foundation in the development of writing, critical and creative thinking, critical reading, oral communication, and literary analysis. Upon completing the English Degree, students will be able to do critical and literary analysis, and use analytical and research skills in research papers assigned in the English courses. As a whole, the English department helps students explore diverse texts to gain global, cultural, and historical perspectives as well as to attain knowledge that aligns with the College's Mission of promoting outlets for artistic, civic, cultural, and social expression as well as environmental awareness. The English Department seeks to: (1) Empower students by fostering them as they expand their literacies and develop their individual voices; (2) Create a passion for lifelong learning in students by exposing them to diverse literatures that illuminate their own lives and the larger world around them;(3) Foster intellectual curiosity in students and help them hone the research skills needed to evaluate new information, enabling them to engage confidently in social discourses.
